1) From M. 2382 & 10. 6. 12
Petition from Pandit Venkatachari against your office, praying for patronage for his copies of Bhagavadgita & Rohana Shodasi.

2) The Bhagavadgita as published by Pandit Venkatachari is a work of great usefulness to students of religion & Philosophy. It has been divided into three convenient parts & bound into three Vols, and is priced at 7-8-0 which high as it is will be considered by all who use the book is not ~~[illegible]~~ two much considering the time & labor the author has spent over it and the versatile info contained therein. Pan. Venkatachari requests that 200 copies of the same may be purchased by Govt.

3) The other book is a small one & priced 3 as.

Pandit Venkatachar requests that 500 copies of his may be purchased by Govt by way of patronage.

(2) I am doubtful how far these books will be useful for temples - they have a purely literary & philosophic value, & as such I think Govt may be moved to purchase 100 copies of the former and about 120 or 150 copies of the latter by way of extending Govt patronage to the author, the Amt being paid from Edr budget

(5) The sample books are submd for perusal

Laborious publication which is not likely to be largely purchased by the General Public. There is no doubt that the author must have been very much pushed as regards space. This appears to be a pity case where some arrangement might have been effected.

Bagard Seth is not altogether a philosophical work. Apart from its educational value, it is an inspired Book for the Hindu faith where mere repetition is counted as meritorious. It will not therefore be widely placed, to place a copy in the more important institutions both Asian and Continental. I approve 50 copies of the same may be purchased and distributed

With some account of Coaching and in this town, new temples may really become the centre of religious teaching. In Srirangam and elsewhere persons such as Nammalvar Mahabharata, Vishnupuranam Bagavatam etc are regularly read and interpreted to large audiences year after year. Some of our newer temples at least can easily become ~~a teaching~~ at least the most popular religious books in the vernacular for consultation and teaching.

As suggested above the use the funds for these schemes of These schemes
